Peter Foggitt

motet for choir, organ, and clarinet (optional)

Key

- i) Where entries are numbered, or a canon is implied, but not written out in full (Soprano, page 2, page 14), these entries are cued individually by the conductor.
- ii.1) Where the word independently is used (Tenor, page 4), each singer should proceed at their own tempo
- ii.2) Where an individual part has a tempo instruction (Tenor, page 4, Bass, page 5), each singer should proceed at their own tempo
- iii) Rhomboid noteheads (page 4, Soprano, Tenor) indicate a note of indeterminate duration, which is held until the next barline
- iv) Triangular noteheads (page 16, Tenor, Bass) indicate barely-sung notes, possibly whispered — this is left to the discretion of the conductor

This musical score page contains five staves for vocal parts (Clarinet, Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and one staff for the Organ. The vocal staves are in common time (indicated by a '4' under the 'C' symbol). The organ staff is in 6/4 time. The vocal parts play sustained notes with dynamic markings like 'f' (fortissimo) and 'p' (pianissimo). The organ part features a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes. Measure numbers are present above the vocal staves, and a large measure repeat sign is located between the bass and organ staves.

The musical score consists of six staves. The top five staves are for woodwind instruments: Clarinet (Cl.), Soprano (S.), Alto (A.), Tenor (T.), and Bass (B.). Each of these staves begins with a dynamic instruction f^\otimes . The first four staves (Cl., S., A., T.) have a treble clef and a common time signature ($\frac{4}{4}$). The bass staff (B.) has a bass clef and a common time signature ($\frac{4}{4}$). Grace marks (short vertical strokes with a horizontal bar) are placed above the notes in each of these staves. The bottom staff is for the Organ (Org.), indicated by a brace and a bass clef. It features a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes, primarily in common time ($\frac{4}{4}$).
